PERSON-CENTRED SUPPORT

Just as the phrase “person centred” suggests, a Person-Centred Approach is about ensuring someone with a disability is at the centre of decisions which relate to their life.

A person-centred process involves listening, thinking together, coaching, sharing ideas, and seeking feedback. This process is ongoing to make sure each person is supported towards their personal goals, even as they evolve and change.

The ultimate aim is to understand what each individual person wants and needs to live their own, personally defined, good life.

It is most successful when friends and family can support the process and help identify and develop the person's strengths.

We make sure we have a person-centred approach across all our services– our customers, their families, and carers choose when and how they receive support, and by whom it's provided.

When we are working with someone, we make sure we keep their strengths and interests, their communication preference, and who people they would like to involve, top of mind.

PERSON CENTERED PLANS

The term 'person-centered' describes service and supports that are centered on an individual and their strengths, needs, interests and goals. Person-centered service delivery ensures that people with disability lead and direct the services and supports they use.

Person Centered Plans are prepared with the Support Coordinator, Participant and/or parent, career or person responsible on entry into the service. This is a written document that is reviewed every six (6) months or as required. The intention of person-centered approaches is to maximise, as much as reasonably possible, the capacity for people with disabilities to take control of their lives.

Person-centered approaches ensure that Participants are at the center of service design, planning, delivery and review. The Participant shapes and direct services and support arrangements to suit their strengths, needs and goals with the support of families, friends, careers, advocates and their circle of support.

SERVICE AGREEMENT

All Participants will have a Service Agreement implemented when commencing services and after their NDIS

Plan has been approved. A Service Agreement is not a Person-Centered Plan.

A Service Agreement contains:

- Information on what supports the Participant will receive:
- How much funding has been allocated?
- When, where, how they will receive those supports?
- How much the supports will cost and how they will be paid for?
- How long the supports will be for?
- What is expected of the Participant?
- What is expected from the Service Provider?
- How the Service Agreement can be terminated?
- What to do if problems occur?
- Information on cancellation policy
- Emergency and contingency plan
- Escalation mechanism
- Feedback, complaints and incident management

CANCELLATION POLICY

Cancellation by the Participant:

The provider may charge up to 100% of the agreed price for their time and travel for short notice cancellations.

A cancellation is a short-notice cancellation, if the participant does not show up for scheduled support within a reasonable time or is not present at the agreed place and within a reasonable time when the provider is travelling to deliver the support.

Short Notice Cancellation – 7 days

- This policy typically applies to Disability Support Work support where a participant has provided less than seven (7) days' notice of cancellation for a support for a support, or if a participant does not show up for a scheduled support within a reasonable time or is not present at the agreed place within a reasonable time when the provider is travelling to deliver the support.
- The NDIS Pricing Arrangements and Price Limits document indicates that providers can claim for a Short Notice Cancellation - 7 clear business days, in respect of that support item.

Short Notice Cancellation – 2 clear business days

- This policy typically applies to non-disability Support Work support where a participant has provided less than two (2) clear business days' notice of cancellation for a support, or if a participant does not show up for a scheduled support within a reasonable time or is not present at the agreed place within a reasonable time when the provider is travelling to deliver the support.
- The NDIS Pricing Arrangements and Price Limits document indicates that providers can claim for a Short Notice Cancellation – 2 clear business days, in respect of that support item.
- Providers may choose to waive the short notice cancellation fee at their discretion (this may relate to the individual circumstances of the participant) or offer better terms of a notice period from their own policies.

Please refer to the NDIS price guide: <https://www.ndis.gov.au/providers/pricing-arrangements>

Cancellation by the Provider:
